Seven Habits of Highly Effective Pirates
[Abridged Version]

Rule #1: Pillage, then burn.

Rule #6: If violence
wasn't your last resort,
you failed to resort to
enough of it.

Rule #8: Mockery and
derision have their place.
Usually, it's on the far side of the airlock.

Rule #9: Never turn
your back on an enemy.

Rule #12: A soft answer turneth away wrath. Once wrath is looking the other way, shoot it in the head.

Rule #13: Do unto others.

Rule #16: Your name is
in the mouth of others:
be sure it has teeth.

Rule #27: Don't be afraid to be the first to resort to violence.

Rule #29: The enemy of my enemy is my enemy's enemy, no more, no less.

Rule #30: A little trust goes a long way. The less you use, the further
you'll go.

Rule #31: Only cheaters
prosper.

Rule #34: If you're leaving scorch-marks, you need a bigger gun.

Rule #35: That which does not kill you has made a tactical error.

Rule #36: When the going gets tough, the
tough call for close air support.

Rule #37: There is no "overkill". There is only "open fire" and "I need to reload".

Rule #38: Give a man a fish, feed him for a day. Take his fish away and tell him he's lucky just to be alive, and he'll figure out how to catch another one for you to take tomorrow.

Rule #39: Just because it's easy for you doesn't mean it can't be hard on your clients.

Final Words:

"When I die, I want to leave a crater...not lie in one"
